

Experiences of the CCICP Ambulatory Wound Care Service November – December 2023

Introduction

What is Healthwatch?

Healthwatch Cheshire is the local independent consumer champion for health and care services, forming part of the national network of local Healthwatch across England. As part of our core activity, we seek the views and experiences of residents of Cheshire East, and Cheshire West and Chester to help inform how health, care and wellbeing services are planned and delivered. The information we gather is then analysed so that we can identify and act upon trends and common themes by presenting our findings to decision makers in order to improve the services people use. We also share people's local views with Healthwatch England who strive to ensure that the government put people at the heart of care nationally.

More about our work can be found at www.healthwatchcwac.org.uk and www.healthwatchcheshireeast.org.uk.

Background

In July 2022 Healthwatch Cheshire was approached by Central Cheshire Integrated Care Partnership (CCICP) to undertake an independent review to gain patient and staff feedback on how the Ambulatory Wound Care clinics they deliver are meeting the needs of local residents. This new service had only recently been implemented and CCICP were keen to gain initial feedback on the success of the service.

CCICP is a unique collaboration between Mid Cheshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (MCHFT), Cheshire and Wirral Partnership NHS Foundation Trust (CWP), and the South Cheshire and Vale Royal GP Alliance, which covers 29 local GP practices.

This is a supplementary report reviewing the progress made by the service since our previous reports in August 2022.

The clinic locations are:

- Victoria Infirmary – Northwich
- Dene Drive Primary Care Centre – Winsford
- Church View Primary Care Centre – Nantwich
- Eagle Bridge Wellbeing Centre – Crewe
- Ashfields Primary Care Centre – Sandbach
- Cedars Health Centre – Alsager.

Accessibility:

- The service continues to operate during the hours of 09:00 – 17:00
- The Victoria Infirmary in the Vale Royal area now operates three clinics running simultaneously. It also runs clinics on a Saturday and Sunday. One clinic in Winsford now has two clinics running simultaneously.
- Bank Holiday cover is provided by the service in some locations. This will be reviewed by the provider in relation to demand.

Service Description, as initially outlined in the Standard Operating Procedure:

- The service will provide a comprehensive range of wound care interventions, in line with CCICP wound management policy.
- To meet individual needs across the five care communities in the footprint of CCICP, the service should be tailored to respond to local variations. This may change rapidly requiring the service provider to be innovative and strive for continual service improvement.
- It will offer health education and promotion, promote evidence-based patient empowerment adopting and encouraging a self-care approach where necessary.
- Holistic assessments will be undertaken at initial visits to the clinic for complex wounds, individualised treatment plans and on-going reviews of treatments will be arranged as required.

- The service will offer a triage system to assist patient flow through the service to help reduce waiting times and ensure the correct type and level of care is provided to facilitate patient satisfaction and well-being.
- The service will offer domiciliary visits to patients who have been assessed with pressure related wounds which continue to deteriorate or remain static and who may require specialised pressure relieving equipment to prevent deterioration.
- Partnership with patients/carers and families is required with healthcare professionals to provide effective care.

Scope

The initial independent review in August 2022 was to consider location and accessibility of service provision, and to gain patient and staff feedback on how the clinics were meeting needs of local residents at all six of the locations. The scope of the original report is replicated in this report.

Methodology

In undertaking the review, Healthwatch conducted Enter and View visits at all six sites, and used surveys to gain feedback from people who use the service and staff. The surveys were left with each of the clinics for four weeks to enable all the patients who used the clinics to access the survey. Poster with links to the online survey were also displayed as were QR codes to access the survey. This report should be read in conjunction with the six individual reports published in August 2022 and can be accessed here:

<https://healthwatchcheshireeast.org.uk/what-we-do/enter-and-view/hospital-scrutiny/>

Findings are presented within this report and appendices.

Enter and View Visits

Under the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007, local Healthwatch have the power to carry out Enter and View visits as part of their scrutiny function. The visits are designed to view the service from the perspective of people who access care and support. All Enter and View Reports are public documents and are published on the Healthwatch websites.

As part of the updated independent review, all six Ambulatory Wound Care sites were visited by two Healthwatch Enter and View Authorised Representatives. A single report was then compiled – this can be viewed in Appendix A.

Summary of the key findings of the six Enter and View reports found in Appendix A

- Staff interviewed by Healthwatch at the six Wound Care Clinics all agreed that the service had progressed since we last visited. Staff felt the service now had its own identity and they felt part of a team.
- The service has its own performance indicators and admin support.
- Staff at each of the clinics felt that they were integrated into the buildings in which they were based.
- Since our last report, all the clinics now have rooms that are dedicated to the Wound Care Clinic and are not shared with other services.
- Healthwatch noted that in most of the buildings there was no signage from reception directing patients to the Wound Care clinics. In the case of the Crewe clinic this was an issue, as the clinic was a long way from the main reception. This was noted in the previous report.
- Most of the rooms used by the clinics did not have signs on the doors to indicate whether or not the nurses were with a patient. This could result in people entering the room when a patient was mid treatment so signage is recommended.

Surveys

To ensure the updated review gained information important to the development of the service, the two surveys which were originally developed by Healthwatch alongside members of CICCIP (Appendix B) were used again. These were originally tested with a small sample of delivery staff and patients for comment before wider distribution. The surveys were made available online for completion, and paper copies were distributed to all six sites with freepost envelopes provided. Healthwatch used the same survey questions as the original report to enable comparisons to be made.

The survey closed on the 7 December 2023 with 48 patient surveys and 5 staff surveys completed. The findings are detailed below and compare to the results from our last survey in September – October 2022, when 47 patients and 7 staff completed the survey.

Summary of overall findings

The survey results show the Ambulatory Wound Care Clinics continue to be well received by patients, who rated the service highly across the board, with a slight improvement on scores this year compared to last. This year all (100%) patients said their experience overall was good or very good, compared to 98% last year.

- Safety, confidentiality and listening to the needs of the patient scored 100% in all clinics, the same score as last year.
- The clinics were all deemed very clean and the vast majority of staff were seen washing their hands before treatments, a slight improvement from last year.
- Staff were praised highly, introducing themselves to patients in the majority of cases and giving advice and information to support them with their wound; again a slight improvement on last year. They were seen to work well as a team (scoring 100% compared to 89% last year) and involved the patient in their care.
- Most patients travelled by car, walked or came on public transport and found the clinics relatively easy to get to (with the help of relatives on some occasions). The inconsistency of public transport was highlighted, but parking was not mentioned as an issue, which was featured last year.

Staff survey

The staff survey results were an improvement on last year across the board.

- All five staff members who responded were aware how to request an interpreter when needed
- All felt they had sufficient time to provide quality care either definitely or to some extent
- All said they had the equipment/dressings they need to provide evidence based wound care
- All said they definitely felt the staff work well as a team.

Survey patient results

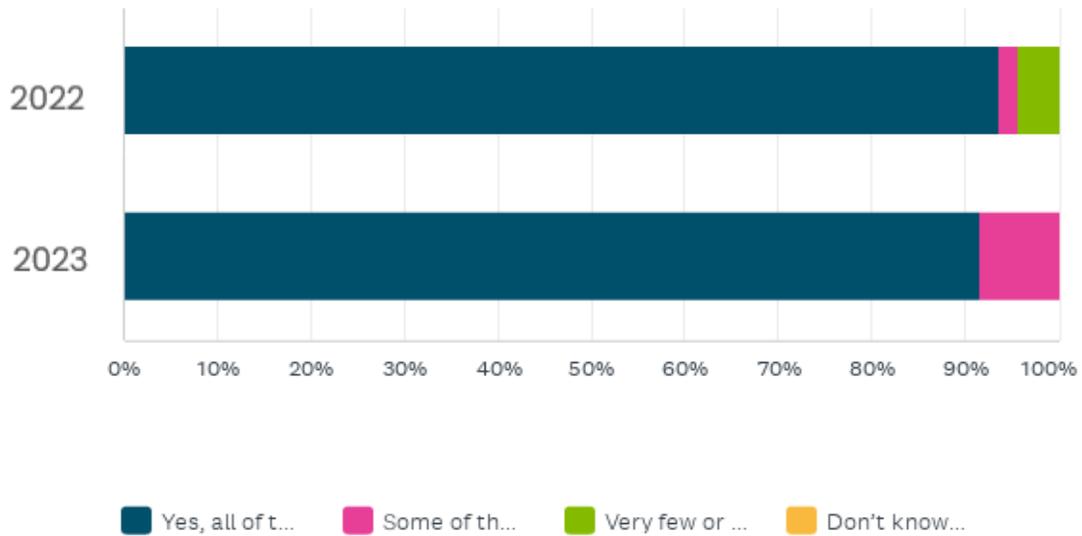

The survey results give insight into the views of patients on the care and treatment they received at the Ambulatory Wound Care Clinics in November and December 2023 and compares to the survey conducted in September and October 2022. The results give an overall picture; however, any clinic specific trends are also highlighted in the report.

Disclaimer

This report contains information gathered by Healthwatch Cheshire Authorised Representatives (ARs) whilst undertaking an Enter and View visit on the date specified above. It provides an account of what was observed and presented on the day, including information gathered during conversations with patients and staff.

Where relevant, additional information will be included from patients and staff collected through surveys and/or online feedback prior to or post the site visit.

What is Enter and View?

Healthwatch Cheshire is the local independent consumer champion for health and care services, forming part of the national network of local Healthwatch across England.

Under the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007, local Healthwatch have the power to carry out Enter and View visits as part of their scrutiny function. This legislation places a duty on health and social care providers to allow Authorised Representatives of Healthwatch to carry out an Enter and View visit on premises where health and social care is publicly funded and delivered. This includes:

- Health or care services which are contracted by local authorities or the NHS, such as adult social care homes and day-care centres.
- NHS Trusts
- NHS Foundation Trusts
- Local Authorities

- Primary medical services, such as GPs
- Primary dental services, such as dentists
- Primary Ophthalmic services, such as opticians
- Pharmaceutical services, such as community pharmacists.

The list of service providers who have a duty to allow entry is set out in section 225 of the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 and supplemented by Regulation 14 of the 2013 Local Authorities regulations.

At Healthwatch Cheshire, the Enter and View programme is conducted by a small team of trained staff and volunteers, who are prepared as Authorised Representatives to carry out visits to health and social care premises to find out how they are being run and, where there are areas for improvement, to make recommendations.

Following an Enter and View visit, a formal report is published where findings of good practice and recommendations to improve the service are made. These reports, which include feedback from the service provider, are circulated to the service provider, commissioner and the CQC and are made publicly available on the Healthwatch Cheshire websites:

- www.healthwatchcheshireeast.org.uk/what-we-do/enter-and-view
- www.healthwatchcwac.org.uk/what-we-do/enter-and-view.

Purpose of the Visit

This Enter and View report is a follow up report to six individual reports that were completed in August 2022.

This report should be read in conjunction with the six individual reports published in August 2022 which can be accessed here:

<https://healthwatchcheshireeast.org.uk/what-we-do/enter-and-view/hospital-scrutiny/>

This report forms part of a wider piece of work that examined the overall experiences of patients accessing the Integrated Ambulatory Wound Care Service, delivered by Central Cheshire Integrated Care Partnership (CCICP). The service was transferred from GP provision to CCICP in 2020 and as such was still in its infancy when Healthwatch originally reported on it in August 2022.

Enter and View visits were carried out at each of the established six delivery sites in Cheshire East and Cheshire West and Chester, with the focus of the reports centring on clinic locations, access for patients, clinical environments and waiting areas.

As part of the Enter and View visits, a questionnaire was distributed to patients to gather additional information relating to their experience of the quality of the service. A second questionnaire was distributed amongst staff to gain their perspective on the service. Findings from each of the questionnaires, and all six Enter and View visits are included in an overarching report that will help inform CCICP of the current benefits of delivering the Integrated Ambulatory Wound Care Service.

Methodology

This Enter & View visit was carried out with prior notice.

A visit with prior notice is when the setting is aware of a timeframe within which we will be conducting an Enter and View visit, but the exact date and time are not given.

Planning and preparation

This is a supplementary report reviewing the progress made by the service since our initial reports in August 2022.

Healthwatch revisited all six Wound Care Clinics and this report describes the findings of the six visits.

In preparation for the Enter and View visits the Healthwatch Team were provided with information regarding the locations and times of the Ambulatory Wound Care Clinics by CCICP.

Additional information was received regarding the Standard Operating Procedure which included information regarding accessibility and referral processes and pathways.

We carried out individual conversations with staff during the visits to aid our understanding of how the clinics run, and to gather views.

Details of Visit

Clinic overview

The clinics in most cases run from 9am to 5pm on a Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Patient appointments are scheduled in 30-minute slots, averaging 15 patients daily. Appointments can be in person, or over the telephone. All the nurses that we spoke to said that they had a very good working relationship with the staff in the medical centres in which they are based. The staff consistently told us that they could easily contact other colleagues at other Wound Care Clinics for help and advice.

Healthwatch were informed that the service currently deals with 2,300 appointments per month across the six Wound Care Clinics.

Referrals to the clinics are carried out in several ways:

- Patients see the Practice Nurses for two weeks prior to being referred to the Ambulatory Wound Care Clinic
- District Nurses will refer patients who are no longer house bound. Patients are given a slip of paper with the appointment details by whoever refers them

- Referrals can be made by the Ambulatory Wound Care nurses to several services including Tissue Viability Nurses, Dermatology, Vascular Surgeons, GPs, Podiatry etc
- Patients can self-refer into the service
- Some clinics, e.g. Northwich, see patients as soon as they are discharged from hospital.

What we observed

The clinics are all based in medical centres which all have parking, however in some cases, such as the Northwich Wound Care Clinic based at the Victoria Infirmary, parking is difficult. There are blue badge parking spaces available but due to the number of other clinics based at the Victoria Infirmary these spaces are in high demand. This is made worse for the patients who attend this clinic as many of them may have leg wounds which limit how far they can walk. There is good, free parking and several spaces allocated for Blue Badge users at all other medical centres.

The Nantwich clinic, based in Kiltearn Medical Centre, has parking but as this is a council owned car park patients have to pay to park. All of the clinics have a drop off point outside the door that makes visiting the clinic by car very accessible.

In all cases there was no signposting to indicate where the wound clinic is within the building or where to check in or wait. This was noted in the last report in August 2022 and it is disappointing to note that no improvements have been made.

Signage at Ashfields Medical Centre where the Wound Care Clinic is based. Note there is no reference to the Wound Care Clinic.

Most of the Wound Care treatment rooms did not have 'engaged' or 'free' signs on the door so patients would not know whether the nurse was free to see them or not. This could result in people entering the room when a patient was mid-treatment, so signage is recommended.

The seats in all the waiting areas apart from Northwich waiting area are standard seating; there are no wide chairs or high chairs. In all the centres toilets are clean, accessible and well signposted. There are plenty of hand sanitiser dispensers; however, we did not see any drinking water available.

Since the last report, all clinics now have dedicated rooms for wound care which is a positive step forward for the service.

Only the clinic in Northwich appeared to have a notice board to update patients and make them aware of opening times etc.

What staff told us

Through conversations held during the Enter and View visit staff members shared their views. Themes that were noted included:

- The staff at each of the six medical centres felt as if they were integrated with the other staff in the building
- Since our last report in August 2022 the staff Healthwatch interviewed at all six Wound Care Clinics all agreed that the service had progressed since we last visited. The staff felt the service now had its own identity and they felt part of a team. Healthwatch noted that all the staff we spoke to now felt a sense of pride in their service
- Wound service staff have good professional relations with Practice Nurses, Nurse Practitioners, GPs and Podiatry staff at each of the centres. There is a genuine sharing of skills within each of the centres
- Staff at each clinic confirmed that their clinics were well stocked with equipment and dressings
- Wound service staff will also see patients when asked to by other colleagues.
- The previous reports highlighted additional equipment that the staff had requested. This latest report highlights that not all clinics have dopplers as highlighted in the last report. The Crewe clinic still has no leg wash.

Recommendations

- Given the needs of a lot of the patients that attend the clinic it is felt that a variety of more appropriate seating still would be beneficial.
- Signage to direct patients from the reception areas of each medical centre to the Wound Care Clinic.

- Engaged signs for each of the Wound Care Clinic rooms at each medical centre
- Consider the use of noticeboards for each Wound Care Clinic.

What's working well?

- There is clear evidence that whilst the service is a standalone service, each Wound Care Team has integrated well with the existing teams at each of the medical centres where they are based
- Since the last Healthwatch report, it is satisfying to note that the staff feel the service has a real identity and individuality
- Staff are obviously proud of their service and the benefits they bring to patients.
